IMPRESSIVE SERVICE BY THE ELKS MARKS FLAG DAY EXERCISES

Patriotic Music, Speeches and Prayer on Program Given in Riverside Park

BOY SCOUTS TURN OUT IN FORCE TO MARCH IN PARADE

Schlachbach, Orator of Day, Urged People Renew Loyalty to Flag

Flag Day was celebrated in a most impressive manner by the La Crosse lodge of Elks in Riverside park Wednesday evening, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. The ceremony was one of hundreds held at the same time all over the country, in every city in the United States and its territories, or wherever there is a lodge of Elks. Headed by the Elks' band and accompanied by a large number of Boy Scouts, the Elks gathered at their club rooms and marched to the band stand in Riverside park. The program was opened by the band playing "America," with the Scouts standing at salute and the audience standing with bared heads until the last strain of martial music had passed away.

Tells Purpose of Meeting
The purpose of the meeting was explained by Anthony Fay, exalted ruler of the Elks, and Chaplain Kloeber offered prayer. The history of the flag was given by Rudolph Schlachbach. Mr. Fay and all of the officers of the Elks who were on the platform then stepped to the edge of the stand facing the crowd and after asking everybody to stand and raise their right hand, Mr. Fay spoke the words of the Elks' patriotic creed which was repeated in loud clear voice by the throng.

Mr. Schlachbach was the speaker of the evening, giving a fine patriotic address. "This, the American flag, has defied kings and wrested empires from despots," said Mr. Schlachbach. "We love this flag because it is the emblem of freedom and justice; because it was the flag of Washington at Valley Forge, of Grant at Appomattox, of Lincoln who saved it without the loss of a single star."

Asks Renewal of Loyalty Pledge
"We love this flag as the banner of a great nation and on this day we pledge ourselves anew to be loyal to this flag."

One of the inspiring features of the program was the ceremony of the building up of the floral bell of red, white and blue and the crowning of the bell with the panel of stars as a bell was tolled 11 times.

HIGHWAY ELEVEN WILL BE IMPROVED DURING NEXT YEAR

State Engineer Hirst Tells of Large Sums of Money Spent on Bad Road

LEGISLATURE MUST MEET TO PROVIDE MORE MONEY

Another Year Will Probably See Completion of Highway

A particularly bad stretch of road on state trunk highway No. 11 between Blair and Elrick cannot be permanently improved until the next legislature meets and provides additional funds, the quota of Federal and state aid allotted to Trempealeau county having been entirely expended, according to A. H. Hirst, state highway engineer.

Acknowledging the receipt of numerous petitions from Trempealeau county and the Tribune, for the completion of a stretch of road which in rainy weather is impassable, Mr. Hirst details the efforts put forth by the state highway commission to improve trunk line roads in Trempealeau county, particularly No. 11. It has been an expensive and difficult problem because of the failure of some of the local communities in the county to provide funds, but progress has been made and hope is held out that the No. 11 project will be completed in another year.

Following is Mr. Hirst's letter to the Tribune: "The Wisconsin Highway Commission has received a large number of petitions and considerable other correspondence relative to the condition this spring of State Trunk Highway No. 11 between Blair and Elrick."

"The condition of State Trunk Highway No. 11 for its whole length across Trempealeau county has for years been a matter of considerable concern to the Commission. When the Commission laid out State Trunk Highway No. 11 across Trempealeau county and sought to find a north and south route through the county which could be kept passable, it was found to be impossible to do so, due to the persistent neglect of the north and south highways by the towns and the county in their local and State Aid work. Outside of the Town of Gale, the Town of Sumner, and very small improvements in the neighborhood of Whitehall, no money had been spent locally on this highway, which was the best one we could find."

Work Four Years
"Since we agreed to maintain this highway, commencing in the spring of 1918, I think it will be agreed that its passability has been immensely improved. However, maintenance will not cure such conditions as exist south on the big hill on No. 11. There must be a very large amount spent for construction between Elrick and Blair before the road will meet the present demand for really good all-year around highways."

Unfortunately the funds at the disposal of the Highway Commission for permanent improvements are not unlimited. Furthermore, they are distributed on a fixed basis to each one of the seventy-one counties. Under this distribution there has been available to date for Trempealeau county the sum of $270,617.22. This is the whole sum available for five years for improvement of all of the 126 1/2 miles of state trunk highways in Trempealeau county, outside of a small amount of State Aid available each year, improvements made by which are at the discretion of the county board.

Out of the funds available we have located three improvements south of Whitehall on State Trunk Highway No. 11. The cost of these improvements will be over $151,000.00. Therefore 58 per cent of all Federal Aid improvements in Trempealeau county has been located on No. 11 south of Whitehall. No 11 north of Whitehall has not received a penny and No. 53 west of Whitehall has received or will have received the remainder of the funds. This last, we believe, was justified in trying to connect up the three cities, Whitehall, Independence and Aradine.

PUBLISHERS STICK TO EXISTING PLAN OF "AD" SERVICE

Newspapers also Oppose Move to do Away With Government Circulation Statement

FINAL SESSION OF AD CLUB CONVENTION HELD THURSDAY

First Radio Songs Ever Written Sung in Convention

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—There has been so much discussion of the opinion between newspapers and advertising agencies relating to the extent and quality of merchandising service incident to market extension on the part of the advertisers that a special interest surrounded the meeting of the newspaper executives in final session at the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World convention when a resolution was introduced pledging the association to a rigid adherence to the existing standards of practice.

Resolutions passed by the newspaper executives included a statement expressing their opposition to the discontinuance of the government statement of circulation which the resolution characterized as of "practical value."

A. L. Shuman of the Star Telegram, Fort Worth, Texas, was elected president, and Ralph A. Perry, Fort Worth, secretary.

"So intertwined are industrial interests of today that the finished product of one industry becomes substantially the raw material of another, and so on through the different processes of manufacture, the same product may even be used in a more completed stage, as perhaps equipment or machinery, in an industry through which it has previously passed in an earlier stage," said Max W. Babb, vice president, Allis-Chalmers company, Milwaukee, in speaking on "Advertising as a Factor in Inter-industrial Marketing" at the inter-departmental session today.

For five years the church advertising department has been seeking to stimulate the use of church advertising, exerting its influence through the annual advertising conventions and other occasional gatherings where the consideration of all forms of advertising toward increasing church attendance is appropriate," said Herbert H. Smith, associate director, Presbyterian department of publicity, New York, in speaking before the inter-departmental session.

"Most churches, the speaker said, use 'advertising copy' which is merely an announcement of sermon subjects and preacher's name. But this is addressed to people who have already decided on church attendance, and does not reach those outside of that circle."

STREET CAR COMPANY SUED BY GOVERNMENT FOR CROSSING BILL

The United States, through James C. Davis, director general of railroads, has filed suit in circuit court against the Onalaska & La Crosse Street Railway company for $275.13 and interest. The director general alleges that in August, October, November and December, 1919, and February, 1920, the street car company failed to repair and maintain the trolley crossing over the Chicago & Northwestern railroad tracks at Second street, Onalaska, in accordance with its agreement with the railroad. The repairs and renewals were made by the director general's office and the street car company has failed to pay the bill, it is charged. The street car company has not filed any answer to the suit as yet.

PEKING WAITS WORD FROM BATTLE LINES IN NORTH AND SOUTH

Chang Reported Defeated by Forces of General Wu; Dr. Sun Advancing Northward

PEKING.—By The Associated Press.—Peking Thursday awaited word from the fighting areas in both North and South to see what new turn would be taken by difficult circumstances surrounding the new administration of Li Yuan-hung.

In the North, Chang Tso-lin, whose aspirations for an independent Manchuria with himself as its lord, is reported defeated by forces under Wu Pei-fu.

What is developing in the South where the forces of Dr. Sun Yat Sen head of the Canton government, were driving northward, is obscure. Wealthy Chinese were said to be fleeing from Nanchang, capital of Kiang province, in fear of a successful thrust by Dr. Sun's troops against that town.

An Amor dispatch tells of efforts Sun is making to effect a reconciliation with Chen Chiang Ming, powerful general who recently became estranged from him and is credited now with caring less for Sun's success than for peace in China.

WU LINES HOLDING

TIENSIN.—By The Associated Press.—Reliable observers of the recent fighting along the Gulf of Wu Pei-fu have never suffered defeat in their drive against the army of general Chang Tso-lin, the Manchuria chieftain although they are reported held on their right wing.

The plight of the wounded is described as terrible. Medical arrangements are inadequate. At times wounds have been bandaged with dirty potres. Wounded, too, have been herded into open cars in a broiling sun.

Reinforcements have been rushed to the front by Gen. Wu, with the hope of capturing Shanhaikwan in two or three days.

STATE TROOPS GUARD MICHIGAN MAN WHO CONFESSED MURDER

LANSING, Mich.—A squad of state police officers continues to stand guard at the city jail where George Straub, alleged confessed slayer of Miss Alice Mallett, was held in safety Wednesday night as several scores of Jackson men demanded the prisoner. Local officers also were on duty in all streets in the vicinity of the jail to disperse crowds or prevent demonstration that might lead to another attempt at violence.

Straub will be held here, it was indicated, until his arraignment on a charge of murder brought against him Tuesday at Jackson.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y.—Walter S. Ward, millionaire baker's son, Thursday was indicted by the Westchester grand jury on a charge of killing Clarence Peters ex-sailor, last May.

Soon after the indictment was returned deputy sheriffs were sent to Ward's home in New Rochelle to arrest him. He has been at liberty on $50,000 bonds.

FIGHT OVER QUART OF WHISKEY STARTS RIOT ON STEAMER

WASHINGTON.—Dispute over a quart of whiskey was said to have started a riot Wednesday night on a steamer plying between Washington and a Potomac river resort, in which 400 excursionists took part and one man was killed and a score injured, one probably fatally, before the disorder ended, when one of the contending factions left the vessel at Alexandria, Va.

CONSTITUTION FOR IRISH FREE STATE NEARS COMPLETION

LONDON.—By The Associated Press.—The constitution for the Irish Free State, in the shaping of which unexpectedly good progress has been made, will be made public Friday, it was announced by Winston Churchill, the colonial secretary, in the house of commons. The constitution conforms with the Anglo-Irish treaty Mr. Churchill said.

The colonial secretary said his statement on the Irish situation which had been expected here would make today, had been postponed until next week.

STEAMERS IN COLLISION

STURGEON BAY, Wis.—The freighter J. H. Stevens was seriously damaged early Thursday off Sherwin Point, when it came in collision with the steamer City of Marquette and was rammed amidship. It was said that freighter was carrying a cargo of pulpwood which kept her afloat after the accident. The steamer City of Marquette brought the damaged freighter into the Sturgeon Bay docks although she herself had been badly damaged forward.

HOPES OF ALL EUROPE CENTER ON HAGUE MEET

Allied Statesmen Meet to Attempt Accomplishment of that Which Genoa Meeting Failed to Achieve

FRANCE TO INSIST THAT RUSSIA WITHDRAW GENOA MEMORANDUM

Russians to Maintain Stand Taken at Former Conference Says Moscow

THE HAGUE.—By The Associated Press.—The conference which is to consider Russian affairs was called to order in peace palace Thursday afternoon by the Dutch Foreign Minister, Van Karnebeek. Sixty delegates, representing about thirty countries, were present.

THE HAGUE.—By The Associated Press.—All Europe centered its hopes Thursday in the opening of the international conference which is dedicated to the task of making practical arrangements for the entry of Russia into the concert of nations. The at least temporary failure of the efforts at Paris to organize an international loan for the restoration of Germany has undoubtedly served to augment the pessimism obtaining in many countries concerning the prospects of making definite arrangements with communistic Russia on such vital matters as credits, the treatment to be accorded to property held by foreigners and the payment of the Russian debts.

Nevertheless, determination was evident among the delegates gathered here for the preliminary meetings to make every conceivable effort to reach the results which the Genoa conference did not succeed in achieving.

Withdraw Genoa Note—Paris

Chief interest centers in the harmonization of the attitude of England, France and Italy on how to approach the soviet delegation officially, for France shows a disposition to adhere to her Genoa demand for suitable guarantees from the bolshevik before undertaking to renew official relations with Russia.

France objects to the soviet memorandum which attacked the capitalist systems of the other countries and charges these nations with doing many things—confiscating property for example—equally drastic with the bolshevik measures to which they objected. The French would like to see this memorandum withdrawn by the soviet before official hour parlors with the Russian delegates are again inaugurated.

France and Belgium in Accord

PARIS.—The Belgian foreign minister, M. Jaspar, had a long interview with Premier Poincare Wednesday night, which resulted, according to Le Echo de Paris, in a complete agreement as to the stand to be taken by the two nations at The Hague conference.

Belgium, it was added, will maintain the attitude she adopted at the Genoa conference regarding the return of private property in Russia taken over under the soviet government's nationalization program.

It is stated in some quarters that, should France decide that her delegates shall not meet the Russians when the joint conferences begin at The Hague on June 26, Belgium will follow suit.

Russia Won't Change

MOSCOW.—By The Associated Press.—On the eve of The Hague conference, officials of the Russian soviet government informed the Associated Press that the Russian attitude at the new meeting will be the same as that adopted at the Genoa conference. The only concessions to foreign capital possible, it is added, will be on the basis of the recently enacted laws governing private property.

WEEKS PESSIMISTIC OVER TENDENCY OF POLITICAL THOUGHT

Undermining of Constitution
Weakening Structure of Government Says Secretary

DEPRECATES INCREASING TREND OF INTERFERENCE BY PEOPLE

Congressmen Becoming Machines to Carry Out Whims

CLEVELAND, Ohio.—By The Associated Press.—A frankly pessimistic view of some of the predominant tendencies of American political thought was voiced Thursday by Secretary Weeks of the war department at the commencement exercises of Western Reserve university.

In an address which he said he was tempted to entitle "The Decline of the American Government," the war secretary declared the drift of recent years was gradually weakening the nation's governmental structure by undermining the constitution and sweeping away the principles of party responsibility.

"I am gradually disturbed by the departure in recent years from the government of the constitution, as I conceive it, to other forms of government which have a decided tendency towards complete social democracy.
While I have no fear about the ability of our government to endure, I must admit I am very pessimistic about the result of the present trend which I cannot but believe is gradually weakening our governmental structure and may eventually change its character."

Opposes Constitutional Changes

"It has been necessary to amend the constitution from time to time to meet changing conditions which should only be done after very mature and deliberate consideration. On the other hand I am firmly convinced that when we have attempted to improve the work of our government by amending the constitution in its basic policy of government we have failed significantly."

"Government is so intricate that it should be administered by trained men. The constitution intended that this should be done and that the general common sense which applies in other fields of human endeavor should be used in administering the affairs of our government. This is an age of specialists. The average citizen is so engrossed in his private affairs that he has neither time nor funds of governmental policy or the qualifications of the candidates presented for his suffrage. How can he be expected to detect the faults or dangers of some proposed change in governmental procedure."

Citizens Interfering

"Then, we see an ever-increasing tendency on the part of the citizen to interfere in the details of legislation and the representative in congress is rapidly becoming the delegate of his constituency."

"This interference tends to make the representative timid and instead of enjoying the dignified status of a real representative, he is reduced to the status of a mere machine to carry out the whims and caprices of his constituency."

"I believe the mature judgment of the people of the country can be trusted. If you take any great question of government and discuss it fully in every school district in the country, through the press, and from the platform, the net results will be a correct solution from the standpoint of the nation, but such a procedure is not possible in the case of one one-thousandth part of the questions pressing for solution every year."

"We have recently passed through a great war and are experiencing the reconstruction period following it.
In the midst of comparative plenty, in the midst of reasonable and increasing prosperity, we witness an even greater volume of unrest than ever ordinarily obtains. This is evidenced particularly in the criticism of public officials of the immediate past and present. There is an almost universal condemnation of congress at this time, and while I think there are reasons why congress may be criticized, I am sure that much of the criticism laid at its door is unjustified."

Public Dissatisfied
"But in any case, in the public mind the legislative branch of our national government probably never has been at lower ebb than it is today. In my judgment much of the dissatisfaction is not based so much on legislation as it is due to the present state of the public mind. One reason for this is taxation and resultant appropriations."

"In its platform in 1920 the dominant party promised to reduce taxation. In some respects it has failed to do so, not because a large number of republican senators and congressmen did not wish to carry out the pledges of their party, but because of a combination of a part of the majority devoted to a special interest with the minority in congress and an insistence on their part that income taxes, generally speaking, should not be reduced."

"Then, there is the constitutional amendment relating to prohibition. I do not comment on the ultimate wisdom of the prohibition amendment, but it is indicative of one very pallable fact; an abrupt change in a matter affecting so many citizens cannot be made without creating violent opposition and resulting in much criticism of the government."

Wealth and Labor

One of the most fallacious theories advanced to mislead labor is the oft-quoted statement that "all wealth is the accumulated product of labor."
The simple fact is that the wealth of the world has been created by intelligence. Labor by itself barely preserved life. All that means human progress, the wealth, the welfare and the happiness of man has come more from the brain of man than from his hand. Each is entitled to reward in proportion as it serves.—Charles H.

Sabin.

THE VALUE OF "WASTE LAND"

Forty per cent of the land in the United States is non-tiltable. The proportion classified as swamp or marsh lands is large. Every acre of it could under proper control be made at small expense to produce returns through its possibilities for game conservation. Areas on which wild fowl shooting could be had during the open season would be valuable, for every community in the United States has its contingent of sportsmen.

Other non-tiltable land outside the inaccessible territory in mountainous regions might be used for the production of nut crops. Once nut bearing trees are established the matter of land deterioration ceases to be a problem. Far less labor is required in the care of the trees than for the cultivation of grain crops.

LOVE MASTERS FEAR

THERE is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear.—1 John 4: 18.

The Vanishing Buck

THE new American army of 150,000—the "minimum" the war department is battling for—there will be 20,000 privates, 15,000 officers and 115,000 "specialists." "Specialists," we take it, are mechanics, horseshoers, chemists, electricians, chauffeurs, and what-not of that nature. They are fighting men incidentally. Primarily they are caretakers and operators for machines.

But if we have another war the "specialists" won't do the bulk of the fighting. The twenty-thousand bucks will be turned into drill-sergeants and some millions of young men who are specialists in peace-time occupations of one sort and another will be turned into privates. They will do the fighting. The specialists and their machines will just be auxiliaries to keep the infantry posted, clear the way for them a little, and keep them fed and cared for. The heavy lifting in the war will be done by civilians who have hardly learned how to salute but don't need to be taught how to walk up to trouble and kick it out of their way. Machines are all very well, but when it comes to fighting it has to be done by plain men with bows.

We may be wrong, but if we are not, most of the machines for which the army will maintain 115,000 specialists are only minor variations of machines that are in every day civilian use. If 20,000 privates and 15,000 officers are enough active soldiers to keep the peace and dignity of the United States when there is no war, why not turn the "specialists" back to civil life to do something useful with their skill, make something for themselves and cost the government nothing? A string in the nature of membership in a reserve could be kept on them to bring them back in a hurry if war looked likely. Does that sound sensible to you? But what's the use of bothering about it? It won't be done. Maybe it's too sensible.

With the Dodo

ONE of the great American institutions that is in danger of becoming extinct is the old-time street faker, as truly a Yankee product as apple pie, baseball, the circus and black-face minstrels. Old-timers may have noticed something lacking this spring, and not been sure just what it was. What they miss is the street faker. Montague Silver, "greatest street man west of the Alleghenies" and typical of his profession, rises in memory.

It is a warm June evening, back yonder in the old home town, Montague's big red gipsy wagon is parked in the public square. Towering above the half-awed, half-jubilant faces of the populace is Montague himself, beaver hat, frock coat, checkered vest, goatee and all—including one of the Brazilian diamonds, large as a hickory nut, which Monty carried in stock. Under the flickering light of a banjo-shaped gasoline torch, the old street faker dispensed Wa-Wa "the remedy whose formula I procured while a captive among the Sioux Indians." When interest in tonic of 98-per-cent-alcohol strength waned, Monty brought forth razors, combination handy tools, eight handkerchiefs for a quarter, and the Little Giant Prize Packet that included everything under the sun, especially a trick ring for squirting perfume in a friend's eye. Usually a street faker "came regularly, once a year," but rarely twice to the same town, especially when the Chinese peach trees he left behind turned out to be dogwood or blackhaws.

The street faker flourished before the days of scientific salesmanship, of which he was the original discoverer, and many a "captain of industry" owes much of his selling ability to boyhood evenings listening under the gasoline torch. To gather the crowd together and hold them when they grew restless and showed signs of drifting away to poolroom or homes, there was a black-face entertainer who told them the joke about the mule breaking its leg when it kicked mother-in-law in the jaw. The minstrel's sure-fire was the old time favorite song "My Gal's a High-Born Lady."

Once in a while, these days, you see a Montague Silver and his black-face entertainer passing out their plunder from a wagon. But mostly the street faker does business from a suit-case-sized stand, cramped in a business district nook or a side-street gutter. The game isn't what it used to be. The street fakers had too much business ability to continue on a small scale; they branched out. Then, too, it's hard to get the street crowd together in these days when pedestrians have nearly all taken to autos, nobody walking. The street faker is vanishing into memory, where he stands out clear and conspicuous, enticing, likeable, a monument to the simple pleasures and thrills of days when Bryan was a young man and his champions were vowing not to get their hair cut until he entered the White House as president.

WE HAVE a tip for the St. Louis police, who are mystified by the story of a woman that three men grabbed her, threw her into an automobile, and after a dash into the suburbs cut off her hair. The police say they can't imagine a motive for the affair, etc. We said we had a tip. Here it is: Talk to the lady's husband. Chances are five out of nine that he doesn't like bobbed hair. Also look up the lady. Chances are nine to one she has a yen to be fashionable. So then we arrive at the problem of a lady, wanting her hair bobbed, whose husband will not allow it. (Strong-minded man, that husband!) What to do? What to do? Why, have the hair bobbed, of course, and cook up a yarn passing the blame to three mysterious strangers, Q. E. D.

The La Crosse City Railway company is planning on installing the new pay-as-you-enter cars on the north side branch of its line. Three street cars of the new type have been purchased and two of the larger old ones will be remodeled. Eliza's Plan

The preliminaries of courtship and progressed smoothly enough. Fred Titus had known Eliza Stone only a month; they had danced together. Fred had called several times at the apartment where Eliza, with another young woman, lived in town with a distant cousin of age to act as chaperone. He had also spent the day at the Stone country place where Eliza spent week-ends—this to give Eliza's parents and brothers and sisters and opportunity to say pleasant or unpleasant things about him. So far, so good. It seemed as if the rest—pleasant little episode of making desperate love to Eliza and being accepted—would be supremely easy.

"Eliza has a lot of fine notions," suggested Mrs. Gifford, who played the role of chaperone, one day when Fred dropped in the apartment on his way from a canvas in the park before Eliza had come home from one of her lectures. "She likes men and she thinks a lot of you. It isn't until she is adverse to marriage. But she takes herself seriously, or at least with a different sort of seriousness from that of girls when I was young."

This only served to spur Fred on to the final declaration of his love. He determined that the time had come. That evening and the place, if Mrs. Gifford would have the good grace to leave them alone, would be the apartment where he was to make his play. And Mrs. Gifford did make or find an excuse and pointedly remarked as she left Eliza and Fred together after Eliza had returned from her lecture that she would not be back until half past six, and that Hazel, her other charge, would be back with her after dinner. So there was an hour and a half before them. Surely Fred could be plighted in that time, and all preliminaries had been so carefully attended to.

Eliza refused to be the least bit sentimental. As soon as he launched out in a definite proposal she seemed to command all her powers of reasoning. "I've been doing a lot of thinking," Eliza began. "Of course it would be the easiest thing in the world to give in completely, yield to the natural inclination, and promise to be yours forever."

"Then you love me—Eliza—please!" "Don't be foolish or impatient. This is really the point of issue. I tell you I have been thinking a lot lately. Girls have the hardest job to play in this question of choice. They are a man goes ahead from the time he is a boy and searches out his ideal heart and educates himself to that one goal in view. He wants to be a doctor, or he wants to be a financier, or he wants to build a house, and all his education is directed to that end. He marries and he goes right on being a doctor or financier or a carpenter and his wife lives in a realm of doctoring or building or house building for the rest of her married life."

"But when a girl starts in to educate herself she has no such definite aim. She has the aim of becoming a woman rather than a doctor or a financier or a carpenter. She has better aim than the doctor, because, after all, the chances are that she will marry. To become too specific about one thing is to narrow her life. Unless one is lucky enough to marry a man who has specialized in the same way that she has, she is lost. She is about with the feeling that she might marry a lawyer or a writer or a college professor and that she might as well study that subject until her for anything. So you see a girl wastes a lot of time and mental energy."

"I discovered this state of affairs some time ago," said Eliza. "I decided that I really did want to marry; that I was not going to waste my life. But I also wanted to have something to do with doctoring. Every one tells me that my talents lie in that direction. So I began to study medicine for a degree. I have begun taking courses at the medical college. I am going to marry a doctor."

"But suppose the doctor doesn't turn up? That is, suppose you don't happen to fall in love with any of the doctors that want to marry you?" Eliza smiled a little indifferently. "You are hardly coming to me with that. My point is that a woman ought to be specially educated to be a helpful and intelligent wife, and it is easier to select a husband to suit your capabilities than to modify your capabilities to suit the first man you take a fancy to."

"That's certainly a very interesting theory," agreed Fred Titus. "And you are quite frank in explaining it instead of venting your mind in enigmas." "I am in a suspense," Fred held out his hand and said good-by. Obviously that was only a pretense, he had been talking about, and that was seemingly taboo. He turned back after he had reached the threshold. "Any way, you had better not let me hear of your going to the medical college. If I happened to fit in with your scheme of activities you would give me a chance."

"Eliza looked reproachful. "You know I would, Fred," she said. "Please don't make me feel any worse about it than I do now."

After that, six months passed, but Fred Titus never called at the apartment where Eliza lived. He was busy from time to time he wrote to her so that she might not feel that he had forgotten her. He preferred, he had explained, her plan to him.

Then, after the six months had passed and the summer with warm days were alternating with warm days, summer, Eliza returned to her apartment one day to find Fred Titus in the little reception room. The cousin had admitted him, but having an errand had left him alone in the apartment until Fred came from college. "Are you still sworn to your plan?" Fred asked her after the brief preliminaries of greeting.

"Why, yes," said Eliza, though Fred thought without any basis conviction as she had shown six months before. "Have you found your doctor?" "No," said Fred. "I haven't found any who appeal to me as possible husbands. But of course I'm ready to marry anyway. After a while I'll be in medicine I intend to spend a year studying domestic science so that I can keep house as I should. I want to learn to drive a car, for there

A GIANT SNAKE

The Zoological Gardens, Regent's Park, has recently suffered a serious loss in the death, from pneumonia, of a giant snake—reticulated python, received from the East Indies four years ago. On arrival it measured just under 10 feet in length, and was placed in one of the second large cages in the reptile house, where, on a diet consisting of rabbits, it grew at such a pace that more commodious quarters had to be found for it. After death this snake was found to measure exactly 20 feet in length. In the course of the removal of the giant reptile it managed to escape from the six keepers who were attempting to move it. After some anxious moments it was recaptured.

INDISPENSABLE
BY BERTON BRALEY
The world is crowded with clever chaps
Who, given some work to do—perhaps—
Will finish the job in season;
But who will probably stall and shirk Postpone, procrastinate, dodge the work.
For any old sort of reason;
But the Other kind—they are precious few—
Are the fellows who hop right to it—
The men who do what they say they'll do it!
Oh, the time we waste and the nerves
we fray
With the folks who promise a job today
And bring it in three days later!
There's nobody causes so much of pain
As the chap whose promise is wholly vain.
The chronic procrastinator!
How welcome then is the toiler who,
Having started a task, gets 't'rough
it—
The man who does what he says he'll do
At the time that he says he'll do it!
He may be plodding, he may be slow
But when he gets on the job, you know
He'll finish it—on the minute;
And because he's true to his word and task,
He'll get whatever he cares to ask
Of the world and the wealth that's in it.
Success will follow his efforts through,
He never will have to woo it.
This man who does what he says he'll

At the time that he says he'll do it!

MORGAN FILES SUIT AGAINST TENT AND AWNING COMPANIES

Attorney General Asks Writ to Dissolve Organization for Price-fixing Purposes

LA CROSSE COMPANY AMONG FIRMS LISTED BY MORGAN

Concerns Cited Include Most of Similar Companies in State

MADISON, Wis.—The Wisconsin tent and awning manufacturers association is attacked in an action commenced today in the Dane county court by Attorney General William J. Morgan, asking for a permanent injunction to restrain members of the organization from combining to fix prices, in violation of the state anti-trust law.

Members of the association, who are said to do 90 per cent of the tent and awning business of Wisconsin, are the Munson-Konney company, J. J. Brothers company, R. L. Luckey, Christ Johnson, John Palmer and Peter Christensen of Milwaukee; Goldsboro Awning company and the Jachinson company, of Racine; Canva products corporation, of Fond du Lac; Superior tent and awning company, Superior; John Gallagher company, Madison; La Crosse tent and awning company, and the Hirschelmer tent and awning company of La Crosse; Green Bay tent and awning company, Green Bay; Press-hold tent and awning company, Milwaukee; Wisconsin tent and awning company, Wisconsin; and Milan Norberg manufacturing company of Beloit.

Attorney General Morgan in his complaint charges that these companies and individuals met at La Crosse in December, 1921 and agreed to restrain trade and eliminate competition.

among themselves in the sale of tents, awnings and fixtures, and for this purpose adopted a national price list called the Standard Awning list.

"Unless this combination is restrained by injunction and the use of this price list and uniform price fixations permanently enjoined," the attorney general claims, "the combination will continue to operate in restraint of trade and commerce and will operate to eliminate competition and to fix and maintain prices."

This is another action of the attorney general against alleged combinations which he believes to be operating to hold up building costs. Already suits have been set under way against wholesale plumbing supply dealers, cement companies and against lumber concerns which are claimed to have combined in restraint of trade.

Other organizations of Wisconsin corporations are under investigation, and additional suits are to be commenced soon.

ALASKA'S BIG WOOD PILE

The coast timber lands of the southeastern part of Alaska, including the national forests Tongass and Chugach, comprise 93,000,000 acres. All this timber is located within reach of tide-water and most of the trees are marketable either as manufactured lumber or as wood-pulp.

There is a large supply of red and yellow cedar from tall, straight trees, which has been found to be of value in furniture and pencil making. Lead pencils require a fine grained, soft wood susceptible of high polish and finish. Furniture manufactured from the yellow Alaska cedar retains a pungent odor so desirable for bureau drawers, chests and closet shelves.

The forestry service reports there are over forty varieties of trees that possess marketable value, and which will some day add to the world's supply of timber and lumber.

BARGE SERVICE ON UPPER RIVER STILL DELAYED

According to Washington dispatches, the Merchants' Exchange in St. Louis is becoming restive under the delay shown by Edward F. Goltra in the operation of the barge line on the upper Mississippi river and is asking that his contract for lease of the barges built by the government be abrogated without delay. The secretary of war has ruled that before the barges may be put in operation Goltra must provide an acceptable bond and adequate insurance. Goltra is said recently to have obtained a concession under which part of the barges may be used in service on the lower Mississippi to handle certain specified products, including grain and coal.

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Police officials of Marathon county Thursday were much concerned as to how Charles Rindquist, wealthy bachelor, whose body was taken from the burning ruins of his beautiful farm home near Unity, Wis., came to his death.

Belief is expressed by some that

J. G. FELTON, Mgr.

YES, THERE IS A BIG DIFFERENCE IN GASOLINE

And the difference is very apparent in the action of most motors, but the blame is usually laid on the spark plugs or the carburetor. Just keep these facts in mind. A motor makes from 1,200 to 3,000 revolutions per minute. That's pretty fast work.

When a low grade of gasoline is used, one that is not volatile and pure, it does not respond to the spark quickly enough. The stroke of the piston is over before it ignites. This unconsumed gasoline is then thrown off through the exhaust—and much of it often slips down past the piston rings into the crank case. Result—wasted gas, decreased power, missing motor and poor oil.

You will learn the difference in gasoline and get the most from your motor the very minute you commence using

WHITE ROSE GASOLINE

A high-grade "scientifically refined" gasoline that contains no impurities to retard the action of the carburetor in vaporizing—that responds immediately to the spark. The fire is instantaneous, the charge is elastic; the force is compelling—and this means a smooth running motor; it means full, even power, and it means economy.

Yes—there is a difference in gasoline and a BIG difference. Try WHITE ROSE GASOLINE today and let your motor tell the story.

EN-AR-CO MOTOR OIL

En-ar-co Motor Oil has the "body" to hold up and withstand the greatest heat any motor will develop, retaining at all temperatures its cushioning properties, which are essential to prevent friction and insure a smooth running motor.

En-ar-co Motor Oil has greatest adhesive qualities. It forms a seal around the pistons which tends to prevent excess oil from accumulating and forming carbon on cylinder head and plugs.

We say to you that if you use En-ar-co Motor Oil, you have the remedy that will insure a smooth running motor. You will get more and greater power. You will have no unnecessary motor repair bills. You will operate your car more economically.

EN-AR-CO GEAR COMPOUND

The power that actually drives your auto is transmitted to the transmission, differential and gears. Why put a "drag" on these important parts by using low-grade grease? Where gear meets gear, a grease of proper "body" and clinging properties is needed to prevent metal to metal contact. En-ar-co Gear Compound does this.

CHURCH TREASURES IN RUSSIA SOLD TO FEED THE STARVING

Work of Requisitioning Wealth of Churches Goes on Apace
in Soviet Republic

MOST OF WEALTH OF CHURCHES
REPRESENTED BY THE IKONS

Jewels and Gold and Silver
Used to Bedeck Holy Portraits

MOSCOW.—The Associated Press—Hammers and chisels, wielded in a matter of fact manner by employees of the government committees for requisitioning of church treasures, have striped in a few moments the silver or gold overlays from ikons that took years to construct. Today these sheets of valuable metal are being weighed on scales and melted down to be sold to help feed Russia's famine sufferers.

Here and there throughout Russia there have been disturbances in connection with the requisitioning, but the outstanding feature of the campaign to transform these valuable into bread has been the calm manner in which parishioners have watched the requisitioning.

The Associated Press correspondent spent a morning with the Moscow requisitioning committee watching the work at an ancient church and a big iconostasis in Moscow. At the latter a few nuns, solemn faced but not resisting, watched the methodical work of the requisitioners and even assisted them by pointing out the treasures containing genuine diamonds.

Fifteen minutes' work stripped from an ikon, all of the silver and gold, before which Ivan the Terrible once knelt, and left it a cracked old painting. A few strips of the shears and a collar of tiny seed pearls, weighing perhaps six pounds and which must have taken months of patient needle work to construct, was cut from another ikon and tossed into a box with silver cups, diamond-studded crosses and communion cups of gold. Scores of hanging lamps of silver and hand-wrought enamel, which had been carefully tended and filled with oil and lighted for centuries, came down just as quickly and were thrown in heaps on a wooden bench to be listed and weighed on the scales.

Most of the wealth of the church has been placed in the overlays of ikons. The Green Cathedral church altars statues, but permits pictures of the saints. Originally more oil paintings, these ikons have been framed in gold or silver and then overlaid with precious metal filigree over the canvas. Sometimes only the faces of the paintings can be seen under the gold and silver. If the painting is that of the Virgin, for example, pearl necklaces are hung about the overlay that covers the neck. In some cases garments heavy with jewels are added. When all these decorations are torn away, there remains only an old oil painting.

The work of the requisitioners was extremely careful and methodical. Though probably communist themselves and therefore scornful of the customs of the orthodox, they doffed their hats upon entering the church. They did not enter the sanctuary or other holy rooms but permitted the priest or some other person designated by the faithful to hand out to them the valuable articles from these places.

Experts from the government museums accompanied the requisitioners and if they discovered objects of great historical value these were pronounced "museum articles" and not sold but removed to the museums or permitted to remain in the churches. At the Nikitski convent one ikon which the nuns particularly valued was not taken, as the parishioners agreed to pay over to the famine fund its value in silver coin.

TO GET POINTS OF PROHIBITION

A commission from Sweden may be sent to this country for the purpose of looking over the field with the idea of putting the matter of prohibition up to the people of that country. The proposal has been made by the central board of the Swedish Students' association for absolute prohibition. This organization is composed of students in the higher schools and universities. They suggest that the commission shall be composed of an equal number of "wets" and "drys," the wets to be appointed by the newly organized National League of Temperance.

The student organization points out the immense importance of the American experiment to the development of prohibition all over the world, stating that the Swedish people, before casting their vote on this issue, should receive reliable information concerning the general facts of the dry law in the United States.

A TUNELESS AND SONGLESS LAND

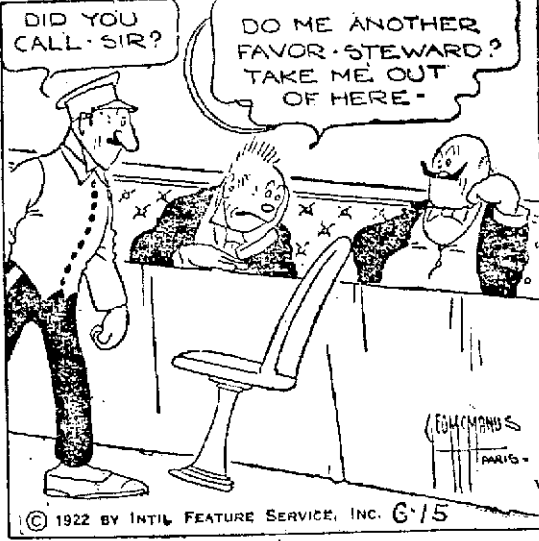

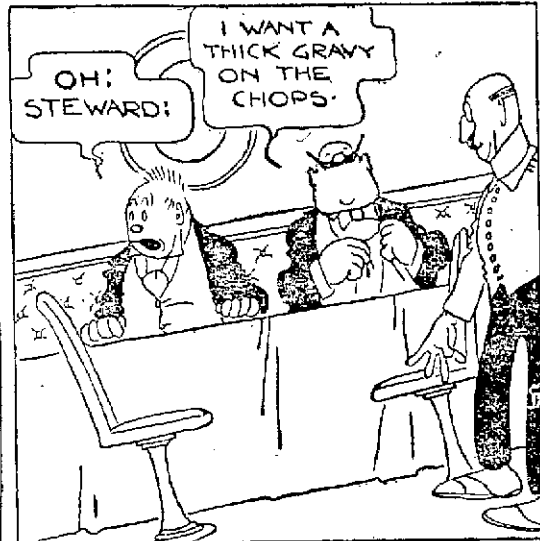

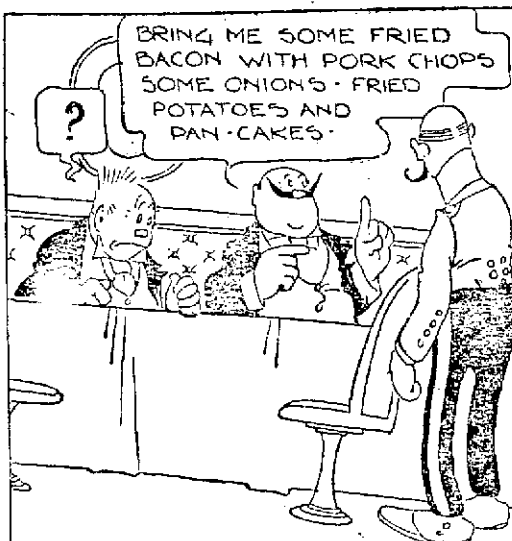

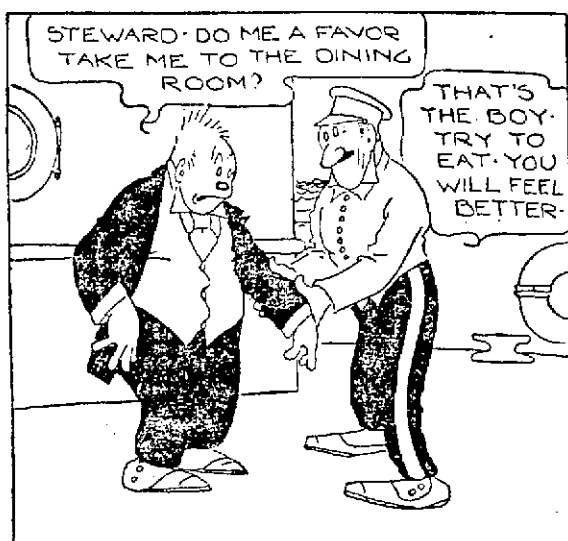

Nearly all primitive people are fond of music. The Kurd is the one exception. In Kurdistan music of any kind is banned. It is looked upon as immoral.

The three things to remember when invited as a guest to inside a Kurdish dwelling are: "Never stretch your legs out, especially in the direction of another person; never convey food to your mouth with your left hand; and never fondle a dog."

Kurdish women are the only women in the east who wear a turban. They enjoy much freedom and are generally much respected with respect. Women in Kurdistan have to be bought. As much as $2,500 will be paid for a damsel of high birth and attractive appearance and her father will usually expect to be given in addition a pony and some costly changes of raiment.

Divorce is ridiculously easy. It is only necessary for a man to say to his wife, "I divorce you" three times and the thing is done.

JOHN C. BURNS FRUIT HOUSE

HOME OF QUEEN LIL OFFICIAL RESIDENCE OF HAWAII GOVERNOR

Dramatic Presentation of Hawaiian Legend Features Opening Ceremonies

HONOLULU, T. H.—A dramatic presentation of the Hawaiian legend that accounts for the Nuuanu Pali or scenic gap that occurs in the range of volcanic mountain formation on the island of Oahu was given here as one of the events that marked the inauguration of Washington Place, former home of Queen Liliuokalani, as the official residence of the governor of Hawaii.

The Pali, regarded as the greatest scenic attraction of Oahu has played a large part in Hawaiian history. It was there that decisive battle in King Kamehameha's campaign to unite the islands was fought. Kamehameha's forces vanquishing the defending army of Oahu and driving it over the cliff, to destruction on the rocks approximately 1,000 feet below.

The legend, as presented at the housewarming by the Sons and Daughters of Hawaii, was that the mountain range was once unbroken. Kamehameha, a beautiful Hawaiian maid, and her lover, Keamihunohou, had parted. A "kahuna," (medicine man) advised her to learn to dance and sing, and said these accomplishments would bring her lover back. In the mountains, Kamehameha toiled at her singing and dancing lessons unceasingly. When it was announced that she would display her skill, the people crowded up the mountain to watch her dance and listen to her songs. A flower, dropped at her feet as she sang, told her that her lover had returned. The applause of the people at her performance and reunion, was so great that the commission caused the mountain range to split and form the Pali, according to the myth.

A series of recitations throughout the day and night and muskades, in which Hawaiian music and modern selections were mingled, were other features of the housewarming. Washington Place had been Queen Liliuokalani's home for sixty years.

HAWAIIAN RACE IS MARRYING ITSELF OUT OF EXISTENCE

Inter-racial Marriages Blamed for Decrease in Pure Hawaiian Population

HONOLULU, T. H.—The Hawaiian race is not "dying out," but in reality is "marrying itself out of existence," according to a statement made here by Miss M. Hester Lemon, registrar of vital statistics.

Although there has been no material increase in the death rate of pure-blooded Hawaiians during the past four years, the birth rate for the calendar year 1921 showed a material decrease as compared with those of the four preceding years and indicated that Hawaiian men and women are destroying their own race by marrying into other groups, she said.

"It will be seen readily that this practice will tend to increase the part-Hawaiian population and at the same time decrease the pure Hawaiian population insofar as the future is concerned," she added.

During the fiscal year ending June 30, 1921, there were 169 marriages between pure Hawaiian couples. In addition to these, 58 Hawaiian men married women of other races and 142 Hawaiian women were married to men of other groups. Births among pure Hawaiian families during the calendar year 1921 were 42 less in number than those registered during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1921.

RAILROAD BUILDER FOLLOWED ADVICE OF SPIRITS HE CLAIMS

Changed Direction of Road and Avoided Galveston; Warned of Pending Disaster

NEW YORK.—That every mile of the 3,000 miles of railroad he has built has been constructed by following the advice of spirits and that he changed the direction of the Kansas City Southern and built his terminal at Port Arthur, Texas, rather than at Galveston, which spirits warned him to avoid because of coming disaster there, is the assertion of Arthur E. Stilwell, who says he has been president of the company for seven years and was president of the National Surety company. Making his revelations at a meeting of spiritualists he said that he had not revealed his relations with the spirit world before because he did not want "people to think him a nut."

"I have built more than 3,000 miles of railroad," he said, "and every part of the route was determined by spirits who came to me in my dreams and told me what to do."

"When I was building the Kansas City Southern I was warned not to build the terminal at Galveston by spirits because it would lead to disaster. They told me to terminate it at Lake Sabine, where I built the terminal of Port Arthur. Four days after the terminal was completed the tidal wave wiped out Galveston."

The ball game in the afternoon was the high-spot of the day. In the morning a warming-up or practice game was held and in the afternoon the "farmers" played the supervisors the "farmers" winning 12 to 6. The latter were A. J. Sweeney and Sweeney for the "farmers" and Kubit and Nottelman for the supervisors. "Ben" Lani, undersheriff, was umpire.

HUNT FOR TREASURE BURIED AT BOTTOM OF ONTARIO RIVER

PENNSYLVANIA, Ont. — The treasure-seeking dredge Bait started off Thursday to begin digging away the silt on the bottom of the Wye river to what is believed to be the resting place for 300 years of an iron chest holding gold, silver vessels and documents telling of the early struggles of Jesuit missionaries among the Huron Indians in what was then New France.

Improvements, we are expecting to connect in 1923 the surface north from Enrich with the surface south from Whitehall. We are also hoping to connect the surface north of Whitehall with the surface south from Osseo next year, so that we may have a passable surfaced highway from the north to the south end of Trempealeau County on No. 11 at the end of 1923.

"We will immediately get in touch with the County State Road and Bridge Committee of Trempealeau County and find out whether there is anything which can be done this year to make conditions more bearable on this stretch of highway until funds can be made available for its final improvement."

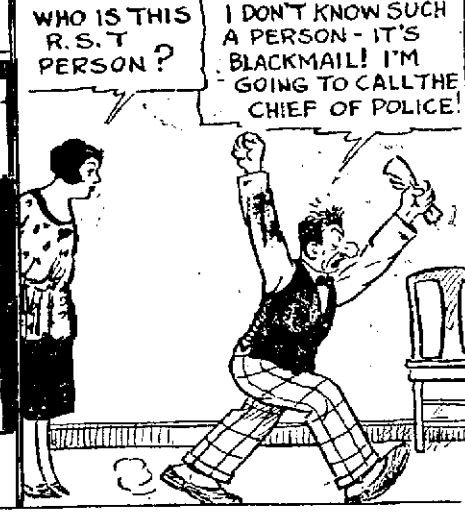

"It would be a great pleasure to us if we had money available to instantly improve every road on the State Trunk Highway System. We have no such funds available, however, and can only make improvements in what we consider their logical order as far as the funds available permit. We believe the order in Trempealeau County has so far been logical. If there can be found any way to expedite this special improvement or if the county has any funds which it can make available, to better the conditions complained of we will be very glad to cooperate this year. But there will be no further Federal Aid funds available until the legislature of 1923 makes them available, as the Federal Aid funds for Trempealeau County now available have been exhausted in specific projects under way or to be undertaken in the near future."

MADISON LABORATORY INVENTS PROCESS TO SALVAGE NEWS PRINT

Method of De-inking Old News papers Will Save Much Waste is Claim

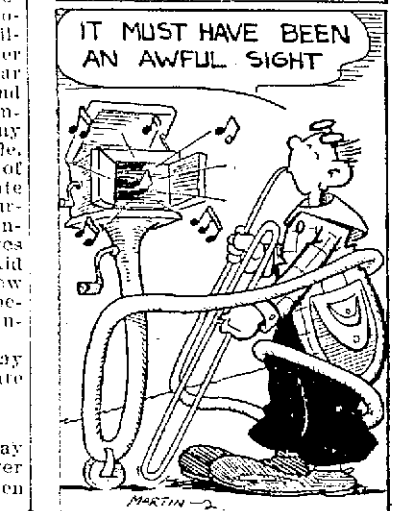

MADISON, Wis. — A process to take the ink from old newspapers so that they can again be used for printing purposes has just been developed by the United States Forests Products Laboratory here, according to an announcement Thursday. Already one mill under commercial conditions has de-inked 1500 tons of old newspapers, which were then remade into newsprint of desired strength and color and accepted by publisher as standard.

The success of this experiment solves a paper salvage problem that was first considered by Danish paper makers in 1905. It affords a means of saving much of the waste and so decreasing the demands on the diminishing American forests for wood from which paper is made.

Bentonite, a clay-like substance formed from volcanic ash and found largely in Wyoming is used in the de-inking process. It has a faculty of dissolving the ink and leaving the paper in a perfectly clear condition. Because of the cheapness of the new process, laboratory officials believe that much of the 2,200,000 tons of newsprint annually used can now be salvaged.

THE NUT BROTHERS (CHES & WAL)

THE REFEREE By ALBERT APPLE

A detective's life is dull and monotonous, says William J. Flynn, ex-chief of the Secret Service. Flynn laughs at the notion that detectives are super-men. He tells Marian Storm, New York writer: "If you want some reading that will put you gently to sleep, try a detective's record of a sensational case just as he keeps it. Interviewed three shoe clerks; no result. Analyst reported poison potion to be taken and water."

Despite all this, a big detective has more thrills in a year than the average person in a lifetime. Like the rest of us, they get "fed up" bored. Everything is relative. A candy store clerk soon hates the sight of chocolates.

Master Criminal

Most remarkable criminal of history was Hugo Breitwieser of Austria. He planned his career from youth. Went to college, studied engineering, to learn about acids and metals to be used in breaking into vaults and safes.

Then, to learn what to avoid, he took a post-graduate course under Dr. Hans Gross, master-criminologist of the University of Graz.

Hugo was a Robin Hood, divided his plunder with the poor. For years he gave the Vienna detectives thrill upon thrill. Finally he retired to a small town, and was caught because he was an exceedingly careful not to attract attention that he aroused a detective's suspicions. "Give them enough rope and they hang themselves."

Jail-House

Here's a man, 90 years old, who has been a jailer since 1848. He is E. Newell Hunting, superintendent of broom-making in the state prison at Charlestown, Mass.

For 74 years this man has watched convicts come and go. He has studied them, studied prisons, watched prison reform, probably knows more about prisons and prisoners than any living man.

And this is his strongest impression: "Criminals have less of the stuff that makes men than they did in the old days. Most of them now are trash and gutter-snipe, practically all of them lacking pride upon which the reformation of any man depends."

Hunting is convinced that the country is going to the dogs. He bases his belief on the modern type of criminal.

Indians

The oldest inhabitants of America—and they haven't a newspaper of their own. But the Indians of the Pacific Northwest have decided to remedy that. They will begin "The Arrow," first national publication devoted to interests of the Red Men.

Hugh Howell, bond salesman, who will become the editor, hopes the new newspaper will get the Indian a square deal.

The modern Indian is more the victim of thoughtlessness than intentional wrong by Americans. All he needs is publicity. Late in the day, but better late than never, Arrow, fly true to your mark!

Babel

Hugh Howell, who will edit the new newspaper devoted to interests of the Indians, says: "Under old conditions, a concerted action by Indians was impossible. There were tribal differences to begin with. Then, there were scores of Indian languages, making communication difficult. Now things are different. The Indian schools have educated all of the younger generations in English."

From the red Americans, white Americans can learn the value of united action and a common tongue. Induce the new arrival to learn our language and "join the gang."

If planning a house, here is something that will help you. The Copper and Brass Research Association estimates that the "building dollar" is spent like this:

BRITISH BANK CUTS DISCOUNT RATES TO LOWEST SINCE WAR

LONDON. — By The Associated Press. — The Bank of England Thursday lowered its discount rate to three and one-half per cent, a reduction of one-half per cent from the figure established on May 15 last.

VOTE ORDERED ON INCORPORATION OF CHASEBURG VILLAGE

Judge Higbee Grants Order for Election; People to Vote on July 11 on the Plan

The community of Chaseburg, Vernon county, added another foot to its growth on Wednesday when Judge Higbee, holding circuit court in Viroqua, issued an order permitting the incorporation of the community into a village, subject to a special election. Chaseburg, which has been growing and prospering for some time, has hitherto under the burden of being an nonentity, nearly a name for a thriving community, so on July 11 the people will vote on the question of incorporation. BONUS OR TARIFF--WHICH COMES FIRST? SENATORS TO DECIDE

President Wants Tariff to Have Priority; McCumber to Push Bonus Bill

WASHINGTON. — Plans for a conference of republican senators Saturday to decide upon procedure with the soldiers' bonus and tariff bills were made Thursday by leaders after conferences with President Harding had disclosed that he desired the tariff bill head before the senate.

While these plans were being made Chairman McCumber of the finance committee on the charge of the tariff and bonus bills, announced that he intended to make a motion early next week to lay aside the tariff bill and proceed with the bonus measure in spite of the president's wishes and also regardless of what decision the republican party conference should reach.

REALLY NO NEED FOR WORRY

A young husband came home from the city one day to find that a note had been left for him on the table by his wife.

He opened it and as he read the note his face paled.

"Good heavens!" he exclaimed, "to think that anything so awful could have happened."

He rushed out, jumped into a taxi, and was driven to the nearest hospital.

"My name is B.," he said to the secretary. "Is my wife here?"

He was informed that she was not.

"Are there any other hospitals near here?" he asked, and again came the reply in the negative.

In despair, and with a view to advice how to act, he showed the secretary the note his wife had left.

This is what the secretary read: "Dearest Jack—I have gone to have my kimono cut out."—Galesville Republican.

THE TERRIBLE ARGENTINE ANT

The startling announcement has been made that the Argentine ant has spread over half of the world since 1897. In Madeira it is said that they have almost wiped out the bird population by devouring the nestlings and they have been responsible for the introduction of the green fly, which they milk like cows. They have killed the pomegranate crop. Unless the greatest precaution is taken against them they will appear in droves in a few hours when it is almost impossible to get rid of them. The legs of the baby's crib must be made antproof and the mother, in putting her infant away for a nap, must be careful to see that no part of the bed clothing falls over the side and touches the floor, for if this matter is not attended to the world find a trail of ants to and from the baby upon her return.

ONE LAST REQUEST

They were sitting close together and suddenly, unable to resist temptation, he kissed her. She was furious.

"Leave me! I never want to see you again!" she shrieked. "You are no gentleman to take advantage of a poor girl that way. Leave me, I say; leave me at once! After this I do not know you."

"All right," he agreed meekly. "But before I go may I beg one last favor of you? I shall never see you again. Will you grant it for old times' sake?"

Her rage abated a trifle.

"If it is not too much I will try."

Then, with a pleading look in his eyes, he begged:

"Darling, before I go won't you please take your arm from around my neck?"—American Legion Weekly.

344 HOME RUNS REGISTERED IN MAJOR LEAGUES

NEW YORK.—Even though Babe Ruth is not setting the home run pace this season, due to his belated start, the major leagues promise to pass the 1,000 mark for their collective efforts if the present pace is maintained. The season is one-third gone, but 344 circuit clouts have been registered, 155 in the National and 189 in the American and the opportunity to eclipse last year's mark of 936 seems bright.

MALONE IS VICTOR IN DOWNEY BATTLE FLOORED IN FIRST

Jock Recovers from Bad Start and Punches Way to Clean Victory

AURORA, Ill.—Jock Malone recovered from a bad start and punched his way to clean, popular victory over Bryan Downey in ten rounds here Tuesday night. The bad start consisted of a knock down in the first round that came as a big surprise to the populace as well as Malone. That was the only round that Downey won. Bryan caught the usually smart Jock napping soon after the opening bell. He pulled a right from far away and it connected in the vicinity of the chin button, though perhaps a trifle high. It spilt Malone suddenly and solidly, his knuckles hitting the canvas with a thump. Jock was bewildered, but jumped up to renew the milling before Referee Davey Miller could get to him to count even one. Downey scented a knockout, but it was not to be. He tore after Jock in rather clumsy fashion, his style anyway, and tried to put over the old finisher. But Malone kept his chin out of the way, though tossing off the round by a wide margin. That sock must have been a dazer, because Malone did not really wake up until the fourth round. He boxed through the second and third on even terms with the Columbus man, but was not the real Malone. In the fourth Jock got under full headway against his scrambling, mauling opponent. From then on he had Bryan missing much, and did some neat execution to face and body with both paws. Downey was dangerous all the while, only with the right swing. He kept trying with it and a left jab, but Malone was wary after the knockdown and most of the rights missed. A few connected high on the head.

Cubs Cop, 15 to 2

NEW YORK.—New York increased its gap over Pittsburgh to five games on Wednesday, crushing the second place Pirates, 13 to 0. The Giants hammered out eighteen hits for a total of thirty-six bases. Five were home runs, two of them by Snyder, in successive times at bat, while Menzel ripped out his seventh home run of the season. Score: Pittsburgh 000 000 000—0
New York 310 303 30—13
Robins, 4; Cards, 0

BROOKLYN.—Vance pitched shut-out ball on Wednesday and Brooklyn took the first of the series with St. Louis 4 to 0. The Dodgers bunched hits off Pfeffer in the fourth, fifth and sixth innings. Manager Robinson shook up the home team on Wednesday, sending Olson to short and Mitchell to first. The change worked well, Olson fielding brilliantly and Mitchell nailing out a timely three-bagger. Score: St. Louis 000 000 000—0
Brooklyn 000 121 00—4

Cubs, 15; Braves, 2
BOSTON.—Chicago hit hard and Boston played loosely on Wednesday, the visitors winning the first game of the series, 15 to 2. Stutz featured at bat and in the field. Stutzland was wild, but proved generally effective with men on base. Heathcote was knocked unconscious in a collision with Ford while stealing second. Score: St. Louis 052 000 341—15
Chicago 002 000 000—2

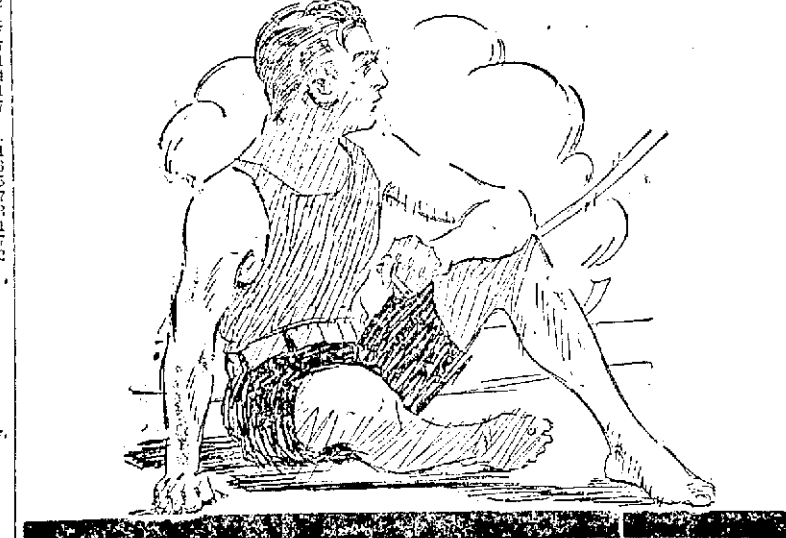

The New York Giants were in a slugging mood Wednesday and took a runaway game from Pittsburgh. The Giants knocked out five home runs in the slugfest.

APPLETON MAY LOSE FRANCHISE IN FOX RIVER BALL LEAGUE

Use of Black Sox in Game Against Menasha Sunday
Starts a General Protest

OSHKOSH, Wis.—Unless the Appleton club of the Fox River Valley League is reorganized and cleaned up, its franchise will be taken away and Sheboygan will be substituted. That was the ultimatum given out Wednesday afternoon at the conference of the league officials at Fond du Lac.

A resolution was adopted providing drastic punishment for any club playing outlaws from other leagues, such as Cicotte and Risberg. The use of the latter two players, members of the Black Sox, who throw the world's series, by the Appleton club against Menasha last Sunday, started a general protest that resulted in the conference Thursday. John E. Kluwin, Oshkosh, president of the league, presided.

COMMERCIAL CLUB GIVES OPPORTUNITY FOR ALL WORKERS

Any Citizen May Express Himself Through the Chamber of Commerce

A Chamber of Commerce is an organization through which public spirited citizens in a community may express themselves collectively on questions of community welfare and through which they may make their collective desires effective. It is based upon the well recognized principle that more can be accomplished by working together for a common purpose than by individual effort.

The Chamber of Commerce does not attempt to usurp the functions of local city government, but co-operates with and assists government and all other proper agencies authorized for special purposes. Its work is to ascertain what the local problems are, formulate plans for their solution and then proceed to solve them. The problems as ascertained and determined upon form its program of activities, and committees are appointed to make the program effective—to improve conditions found to need improvement and to eliminate evils found to exist. In order to attain its maximum efficiency, the organization should have wise counselors, aggressive leadership and enthusiastic workers.

As long as there is a margin between what American cities are as places to live and work in and what they may become, there is work in every community, large and small, for a modern Chamber of Commerce.

The success of the Chamber of Commerce as a community organization, the steady development of the Chamber of Commerce idea and ideal indicate its potentialities for service. Voluntary and unofficial organizations of citizens for putting their shoulders to the wheel for the working out of common problems and purposes is in line with the best American tradition. The future of America lies in the hands of America's public spirited men and women. Its development will be coincident with the best development of American standards and traditions in the community life of this country.

Today finds modern Chambers of Commerce devoting over 60 per cent of their resources to civic affairs to those things which relate to the development of the citizen power of

ATTORNEY GENERAL MORGAN SPEAKER AT FLAG DAY EXERCISES

Describes How Wisconsin Has Drawn Liberty Loving of World

ANTIGO, Wis.—When there is discontent, and when agitators are railing at the American form of government it is well for the people of the state to resolve to defend their inheritance and cherish the free institutions of this country. Attorney General William J. Morgan declared in a Flag Day address here Wednesday.

"The great experiment that the fathers of this nation launched in the thirteenth original colonies when they set up a nation in which each man should be a peer with all the rest in which opportunities were equal and the poorest and humblest might become the greatest and most honored, was the lodestone that drew from every land the lovers of liberty," Attorney General Morgan said.

"Into Wisconsin came the best blood of Germany after the revolution of 1848, seeking liberty, equality and fraternity, and they brought to Wisconsin an endowment peculiarly their own, industry and rugged honesty, honesty of mind and purpose.

"And so too, to Wisconsin came the fearless, the independent and rugged descendants of the Vikings, and all over this state were founded Norwegian states, a liberty-loving, God-fearing people, who quickly adapted themselves to America and Wisconsin and became at once a part of her life.

"From Central Europe came thousands of Poles who would no bow to the yoke of a foreign power and sought liberty in Milwaukee and the Fox river valley. And so I might go on almost without end to describe how America has drained Ireland and Scotland and Wales, Italy, France and England, the Slav empires, of a breed of men that make a nation great, who loved liberty more than they loved a place, and to whom America was an inspiration.

"It is well that we their descendants should pause and consider the value of our inheritance. With the American Flag handed to us by our fathers there was handed a great obligation—to preserve the free institutions of America.

CONFEREES TURN TO HUGHES FOR LIGHT ON TACNA-ARICA DISPUTE

Month of Efforts to Reach Compromise Proves Futile and U. S. Aid is Sought

WASHINGTON.—By The Associated Press.—The way, at least, was paved today for the United States to extend a helping hand to Chile. Peru in their effort here to solve the dispute of Tacna-Arica. After exactly one month of futile endeavor to find a ground or compromise the delegates of the two South American nations to the Washington conference turned their attention to Secretary Hughes in the hope that he could suggest a basis of agreement acceptable to both. Although no official announcement was made, the secretary was understood to be willing to undertake the task.

SULPHUR CLEARS ROUGH, RED SKIN

Face, Neck and Arms Easily Made Smooth, Says Specialist

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Menthol-Sulphur, declares a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation begins at once to soothe irritated skin and heal eruptions such as rash, pimples and ring worm. It seldom fails to remove the torment and disfigurement, and you do not have to wait for relief from embarrassment. Improvement quickly shows. Sufferers from skin trouble should obtain a small jar of Menthol-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like cold cream.

Y. M. C. A. STUDENT CONFERENCE OPENS TODAY AT GENEVA

Delegates Present from More than Hundred Colleges in the Middle West

WILLIAMS BAY, Wis.—Delegates from more than 100 colleges and universities in Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota, North and South Dakota, gathered Thursday for the international student conference which will open its ten day sessions tonight at College camp on the shores of Lake Geneva under the auspices of the international committee of the Y. M. C. A.

About 800 delegates representing thirty countries are expected to register. International relationships and the development of world leaders to work out diplomatic, industrial and social problems from a Christian viewpoint will be discussed. Plans will also be made for the application of Christian principles to the conduct of fraternities, athletics and the social life of colleges and universities, leaders asserting that bad conditions existing in college campus life can best be improved through the students.

The announcement of plans for the conference reads in part: "This theme of the Geneva conference is particularly timely: 'Christ and the Human Need,' beginning with personal and campus needs, extending into social, inter-racial and international relationships, the platform and study groups of the conference will focus thought on the adequacy of the church of God and the message of Christ to face the problem of the time."

Official representatives of various Protestant churches will be present to advise students planning to enter church work.

WAGE NEGOTIATIONS OF HARD COAL MINERS AND OPERATORS END

Suspension of Hearings in New York Means Strike Relief of Leaders

UNIONS TURN DOWN PROPOSAL FOR HARDING MEDIATION BOARD

Operators Refuse to Negotiate on Any Other Basis

NEW YORK.—The break in the wage-scale negotiations between the United Mine Workers and the anthracite coal operators appeared irreparable Thursday as the union members prepared to leave for their homes. That the suspension of the hearings means a strike, was the opinion of both sides.

Thomas Kennedy, president of the District No. 7 of the United Mine Workers at Hazleton, Pa., said that the next move was up to the coal operators, but that he did not expect any more proposals from that end.

The union delegates at the meeting Wednesday refused to entertain a proposal from the operators that the entire wage controversy be submitted to arbitration of a committee appointed by President Harding. The conference then adjourned without future date when the operators refused to negotiate further except upon the arbitration basis.

Confer With Hoover
WASHINGTON.—Coal operators and dealers complying with the administration's plan for voluntary price restraint during the present strike were here Thursday to confer with Secretary Hoover on steps for bringing into line the minority in the producing and distributing branches of the industry who have failed to cooperate in the plan.

Because of the noncompliance of the operators and dealers in some districts Mr. Hoover said in explaining the necessity for the conference, the average spot prices for bituminous coal, after declining from $3.67 to $3.08 a ton when the voluntary plan was put out, had increased again on June 12 to $3.44.

RIVOLI TODAY

Life's bitterest moment may be described as the day of unstinted ridicule; but Constance Talmadge faces her day of despair and gets away with it for a laugh as she romps before the footlight in "Polly of the Follies," that is scheduled to open a three-day run at the Rivoli Theater today.

The breezy star of light comedies has a new viewpoint of the ambitious stage-struck country girl, and she presents it in laughable fashion. Withal the merriment that the picture contains, the plot has its dramatic moments and the value of story narrative is ably retained as Polly Monahan leaves her country home to seek elusive renown of the stage. Kenneth Harlan is an excellent foil for Miss Talmadge and George Fawcett has a strong character part.

MAJESTIC TODAY

Patrons of the Majestic Theater were last evening introduced to a new star, and if the reception accorded her initial feature picture can be taken as any indication then her popularity is going to be wide indeed. She is Min May, a leading European screen actress, and the picture serving as her introduction is "The Wife Trap" which is a domestic drama filled with intense situations. Miss May brings to the screen a new personality quite unlike any other of the present day and her interpretation of the difficult role of the wife in this picture is marked by vivid fire and sparkle.

MAJESTIC FRIDAY

Encounters with huge mountain lions, flitting with death on the jeweled brink of a waterfall, excursions through snow drifts twelve feet high are some of the perils that meet the eyes of "The Cave Girl," the feature picture to be shown at the Majestic on Friday and Saturday. In the dead of winter the company traveled to Yosemite Valley to make the scenes for the picture, which is almost entirely composed of exteriors.

Viola Dana at the Riviera tonight in "Seeing's Believing"

In the selection of Toddlie Gerard for the heroine the producers believe they have found not only a capable screen actress, but also in this instance, a girl admirably qualified for such a role as "The Cave Girl" demands.

STRAND TODAY

The much talked of picture, "Reported Missing," comes to the Strand tonight. This picture, in which Owen Moore is starred is really one of those super-productions we hear so much about but rarely see. It is full of the type of thrills which have made motion pictures the world's most popular entertainment. One of these scenes, a race between a sea sled and a hydroplane, is worth the price of admission alone. Following this chase comes one in high powered autos. In this latter race Moore, in the part of Richard Boyd, stages a scene which is the replica of those thrilling events which fill the daily papers on summer Mondays. In endeavoring to steer clear of a child in his path he swings his machine over an embankment.

RIVIERA MONDAY AND TUESDAY
Some facts about "The Birth of a Nation," which appears at the Riviera next week. 5,000 scenes, 18,000 characters, 3,000 horses, approximate cost of production $500,000. Cities built up and then destroyed by fire. The biggest battle of the Civil War re-enacted. Ford's Theater, Washington, reproduced to the smallest detail for the Lincoln tragedy. Night photography of battle scenes, invented and perfected at cost of $5,000. A musical score of 540 pieces, synchronized to the several thousand distinct and individual scenes. Twelve thousand feet of film in the public picture represent 140,000 feet of actual photography. Making altogether the most stupendous dramatic and spectacular enterprise that the brain of man has yet envisioned and realized.

CASINO TODAY

Channing of the Northwest, which comes to the Casino today offers Eugene O'Brien the type of role his admirers have long wished he would play. There is, perhaps, no screen star of the day more fitted to play the part of the English gentleman forced by circumstances to emigrate to northwest and there adapt himself to the adventures existence life in that part of the world demands.

In the first part of the story Channing is living the life of a young rounder in Mayfair and Piccadilly. Forced to go to Canada, Channing does what all men of his type seem to have done in that case—enlists in the Northwest Mounted. It is in Canada that Channing first meets life face to face.

LA FOLLETTE PROGRESSIVE PARTY ANNOUNCES PLATFORM

STATE CANDIDATES ISSUE DECLARATION OF POLICIES TODAY

La Follette Leadership Reaffirmed by Men Who Will Join Him in Campaign

DOCUMENT SILENT ON THE SUBJECT OF PROHIBITION

Control by People of Own Government Declared Main Issue

MADISON, Wis.—By The Associated Press.—Seventeen general planks are contained in the La Follette republican platform announced Thursday. This declaration of principles upon which candidates for office will have their campaign preceding the September general election primaries has the following planks:

1. Pledge for reduction of state taxes and of federal taxes, with an equalization of tax burdens by an excess profits levy, adjustments of income tax rates and immediate increase of the federal inheritance tax rates, and complete publicity of tax returns under proper safeguards.

2. Pledge for continued economy in state government, with an appeal for election of legislators who understand the resources of the state should not be wasted.

3. Pledge to restore prosperity through repeal of the Esch-Cummings law, abolition of Pittsburgh Plus, defeat of the ship subsidy bill, construction of the St. Lawrence waterway, reconstruction of the federal reserve banking system and the farm loan banking system, and enactment of legislation to end control of monopolists over marketing.

4. Expression of favor for legislation helpful in promoting co-operative marketing.

5. Expression of favor for abolition of the use of injunction in labor disputes and complete protection of the right to organize for collective bargaining.

6. Amendment to the federal constitution to meet the supreme court decision nullifying the child labor law.

7. Expression of favor for adequate representation of women in the legislature, on boards and commissions and in all public employment.

8. Declaration for a protective tariff.

9. Expression of favor for a legislative program for improvement of the public school system with the teaching of foreign languages.

10. Expression of favor for conservation of natural resources to be available for the use and enjoyment of all people.

11. Expression of favor for adjusted compensation for ex-service men to be financed by a tax upon wealth in proportion to the ability to pay.

12. Appeal to citizens for action to outlaw war through provision in the constitution requiring a referendum preceding a declaration by congress, and affirmation of unalterable opposition to military training.

13. Endorsement of the primary system of elections and an expression of opposition to any proposed change.

14. Denunciation of excessive expenditures of funds in elections by candidates for any office.

15. Demand that the right of people to petition and to have absolute right of free speech never be abridged.

16. Endorsement of progressive members of Congress.

17. Reaffirmation of the leadership of Senator Robert M. La Follette within the progressive republican party in Wisconsin and among progressives of the nation.

Silent on Prohibition

Prohibition is not referred to directly or indirectly in the platform, which declares that the "great underlying issue of the campaign in 1922 is control by the people of their government, the choice between progress and reaction."

The candidates pledge themselves to "use every effort to restore to the farmer and industrial workers, business men and other productive elements of the community the prosperity which was ruthlessly destroyed in 1920 by artificial causes for the profit of special interests."

They propose to bring about this prosperity by "repeal of the iniquitous Esch-Cummings railroad law, abolition of the practice of Pittsburgh plus, defeat of the proposal for ship subsidy, construction of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway, reconstruction of the federal reserve and federal farm loan systems so as to eliminate control by usurers, speculators and international financiers, and the enactment of legislation to end control by monopolies and speculators of the markets for grain, livestock, dairy products and other stable necessities," which they pledge themselves to favor.

Pledge Tax Reduction

Dealing with state issues, the platform pledges a reduction in taxes by "continued economy in state expenses and encouraging the greatest practical economy in county, village and town expenditures," and urges repeal of the secrecy clause in the income tax law. Voters are asked to elect a legislature "which understands that the resources of the state and its people should not be wasted or squandered," and which is progressive so that there will be "full co-operation in enacting and enforcing the progressive measures."

Appeal to Women

Appeal is made to women particularly to take "definite political action looking to the outlawry of war, through control by the people of the war making power." This is to be brought about through amendment to the constitution calling for a referendum before declaration of hostilities by congress. In this connection the platform demands reduction of federal taxes "by curtailment of the $800,000,000 now annually expended for the army and navy," and expresses opposition to universal military training.

"We pledge our renewed allegiance to the traditional American policy of Washington, Jefferson and Lincoln, of friendship and commerce with all nations, entangling alliances with none, and condemn all departures therefrom," one plank states.

The teaching of foreign languages in the grade schools of Wisconsin so far as they are equipped for the purpose, receives endorsement of the progressives as a means of establishing a "sympathetic knowledge on the part of citizens of the language, literature and ideas of other people, so that this nation may take its rightful place in world commerce and in promoting world peace, understanding and brotherhood."

Attack "Newberryism"

"We denounce Newberryism and demand the expulsion from the United States senate of Truman H. Newberry, its most notorious beneficiary."

TODAY'S BEAUTY HELP

We find you can bring out the beauty of your hair to its very best advantage by rushing it with canthox. It makes a very simple, inexpensive shampoo, which cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly of all the dandruff, dirt and excess oil, leaving a wonderfully clean, wholesome feeling. After its use, you will find that the hair dries quickly and evenly, is never streaked in appearance and is always bright, soft and fluffy; so fluffy, in fact, that it looks more abundant than it is, and so soft that arranging it becomes a pleasure. Just use a teaspoonful of canthox which you can get from any good druggist, dissolve it in a cup of hot water; this makes a full cup of shampoo liquid, enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just the top of the head.

Reaffirm La Follette Leadership

In closing their declaration the candidates reaffirm their loyalty to Senator La Follette, who they say "pioneered the progressive movement in Wisconsin and the nation." In all his long public career he has never surrendered, compromised or swerved from the path of duty.

"Senator La Follette by sheer force of will, intellect and moral power, has become the commanding figure in the United States senate and in the country. He relies on public opinion and the ballot as instruments of progress. The results of his constructive statesmanship are written in the statutes of this state, other states and the nation. Billiards Originally a Lawn Game Billiards originated in an out-door game known as "Paille Maille" played somewhat like croquet. Just when the billiard tables came into use is not known. Reference to it has been found as far back as 1591, by a writer who classed the game with dice, cards and other "thrilling games." The first tables were covered with hoops, which were afterwards replaced with pockets.

Columbus discovered Guinea in 1482.
